

“My favorite thing about GrandCare is having all these beautiful people available to me. I now have access to my grandchildren. Everything I was missing out on, I can see now. It has rebirthed me, so to speak.”

What is GrandCare?

GrandCare is a large, easy-to-read touchscreen that goes into the residence of the care recipient. To them, the GrandCare is a source of information and family communication. It has a simple one-touch video chat, photo/video sharing, music, messaging, games, and more. But GrandCare can also help the individual remain safer, happier and healthier, no matter where they choose to live. Optional activity sensors, medication management features, and telehealth devices can message or call designated caregivers if something seems wrong, or if a potential health concern is detected. Family members and caregivers simply log into the GrandCare website or app to communicate, monitor and manage the GrandCare System. Professional pricing and discount packages available.

For Yourself or a Loved One

Do you know someone who could benefit from some social connection and memory assists at home? With GrandCare, everyone can have a little peace of mind, without sacrificing independence or privacy.

GrandCare offers a large touchscreen for entertainment, information, family sharing, video chatting, medication management and reminders.

Optional wireless activity sensors can be added on, to let designated caregivers know if something seems wrong (e.g. didn't get out of bed, didn't access the fridge at mealtime, didn't take medications.)

Bluetooth telehealth devices can help manage chronic conditions such as diabetes or COPD.
